

Players received the card above, as well as the “staircase” on the next page. To make the staircase, the next page was first printed on stone-pattern paper. The two lined columns were then cut out and accordion-folded along the lines to make “stairs,” with the letters on the horizontals and the symbols on the verticals. The section labeled GLUE was glued behind the section with the X▲ symbol below the K to make one continuous staircase.
